EXPECT ENGLAND AND FRANCE TO DECLARE WAR TODAY; HITLER IGNORES ULTIMATUMS DEMANDING ACTIVITIES HALT; BERLIN ANNOUNCES STEADY GAINS BEING MADE IN POLAND

(By International News Service)

Extreme Concern Over Possibility of Imminent British and French Action is Felt in Rome—Believe Mussolini's Neutrality Declaration is Subject to Britain's Attitude.

Germany's war on Poland continued today, with no indication that Chancellor Hitler would heed France's and Britain's ultimatums demanding a halt.

Developments:
BERLIN—Military authorities announced steady gains in Poland, troops from Silesia pushing upon Pleschen and the army from Pomerania reaching the Bromberg-Gdynia railroad near Culm. Latest advices said the British and French Ambassadors still waited a reply to London's and Paris' ultimatums.

LONDON—Poland's Ambassador conferred with British Foreign Secretary prior to a meeting of Parliament, at which further war measures were expected.

PARIS—As members of the Chamber of Deputies and Senate assembled, French authorities said they were convinced Germany would reject the Anglo-French ultimatums and that the British and French Ambassadors would be recalled forthwith from Berlin as a forerunner of a general war.

ROME—Italy cut off the dispatch and receipt of German goods.

LONDON, Sept. 2—No German reply to the British demand for cessation of hostilities in Poland have been received in London up to noon today, according to authoritative information.

ROME, Sept. 2—Extreme concern over the possibility of imminent British and French action in Europe was expressed in Rome today. It was feared that such action would result in complications for Italy. It was believed that Premier Mussolini's neutrality declaration, made yesterday, is subject to Britain's attitude.

GERMAN ARMY RESUMES ADVANCE ON ALL FRONTS Troops Quickly Capture The Jablunka Pass, a State- ment Asserts MANY PLANES DOWN

By Pierre J. Huss
I. N. S. Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 2—The German army resumed its advances on all fronts in Poland today, according to an authoritative statement by military headquarters in Berlin.

"The troops quickly captured the Jablunka Pass, connecting Slovakia and Poland," a statement asserted.

"Numerous enemy airplanes were destroyed by aerial attacks on scores of Polish airdromes." (Editor's note: This was the first formal indication since last night that German military operations in Poland have continued into their second day, despite last night's Anglo-French demand for immediate suspension. No other news of continued operations had previously been permitted to seep out from any official source.)

It was understood that Hitler found the first front report extremely satisfactory. Defense tactics and morale came up to all expectations, it was understood.

British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson and Robert Coulondre, the French envoy, are expected to be informed of the Fuehrer's decision shortly, thus ending the last diplomatic stage of Europe's crisis.

It was understood that Henderson, during the past few days, has informally sounded out United States charge d'affaires Alexander Kirk as to whether he will take over British affairs in Berlin.

Coulondre is expected to do likewise. The initial nervousness in Berlin eased overnight when Polish air raids on the capital failed to materialize. The first alarm at 7 p. m. yesterday sent everyone scurrying to air raid shelters.

The fact that Polish planes failed to get through, even if only as a symbolic "suicide squad" heartened Berliners.

They accepted the peaceful night as proof of the accuracy of field marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's repeated claim that no one can break through the Reich's aerial defenses.

Berlin was normal. Traffic was slightly thinner, but otherwise business houses, banks and stores opened as usual.

Hitler was believed to be still in Berlin, cleaning up all urgent matters before going to the front.

Girl Scouts of Yardley Conduct A Day's Outing

The Yardley Girl Scouts spent Thursday at Bowman's Hill in the Washington Crossing State Park, under direction of their leader, Mrs. James B. Foley. Those enjoying the trip were: Carolyn Sepow, Mildred Sedlow, Dorothy Thompson, Dorothy Cadwallader, Genevieve Barbour and Jean Monroe.

WAR DISPATCHES

By Pierre J. Huss

Berlin, Sept. 2—Rapid advances toward "certain goals" in Poland have been made by the German army, authoritative military quarters asserted today, as hostilities went into their second day, as indications arose that Hitler may try to avert war by presenting Great Britain and France with a "satisfactory" settlement. While the British and French ambassadors awaited a reply from the Fuehrer to their government demand for suspension of military operations, responsible quarters at noon stressed the fact that diplomatic channels were still open, and that a "state of war" does not exist. This situation, it is considered in Berlin, might enable Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Premier Edouard Daladier to shelve their obligations to Poland when Hitler is able to advise them that his objectives have been obtained.

By Charles A. Smith

London, Sept. 2—Without explanation, the scheduled address of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain outlining Great Britain's decision in the light of Germany's invasion of Poland was postponed today.

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon told the House that Chamberlain would make a statement "later in the day."

Parliament session was then recessed to meet again at 1 p. m., eastern daylight time. Another session was scheduled for noon tomorrow. As London took on a full war time appearance, the government quite naturally decided all public information regarding fleet, troop and aerial dispositions, but the nation was assured nothing had been neglected.

The last school children continued their orderly and smooth evacuation of big cities, with evacuation of the blind, crippled and others beginning this afternoon.

Following Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's statement to the House of Commons this afternoon, Parliament will continue in order to pass a heavy new program of war legislation, including conscription bills affecting all men from the ages of 18 to 41.

Intensive ministerial and diplomatic activity was under way at 10 Downing Street at the Foreign Office, with a small crowd standing by.

By H. R. Knickerbocker

Paris, Sept. 2—British military pilots in blue Royal Air Force uniforms, and British officers wearing the red tabs of the general staff, appeared for the first time since 1918 in streets and restaurants of Paris today, as France and England prepared to enter side by side in the greatest struggle ever.

MUSEUM PROJECT TO MOVE TO S. LANGHORNE

Lack of Accommodations
Here Given As Reason
For Change

LOCATED HERE A YEAR

The Museum Extension Project which for the past year has been quartered in the building of America Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., No. 2, Pond and Mulberry streets, has moved. Quarters have been taken at South Langhorne and a building there is now being fitted up to house this activity, one of those on the relief program.

E. MacWright, assistant project head, said today the project was now being sponsored by the South Langhorne Business Men's Association and it was anticipated that in the near future 100 would be employed.

During the time that the project was located in Bristol, about 55 were on the employed list and many of these are said to have come from points outside of Bristol Borough.

The project with its removal from Bristol was divided and part of the group was sent to Norristown and the balance to South Langhorne. No one was laid off, according to Mr. MacWright.

Questioned about who was to provide transportation for those who live here and will now have to go to South Langhorne, Mr. MacWright replied, "That has been arranged."

The project was engaged in making models of local and historical objects which it was intended to be used in schools as illustrations in instructing the children.

TO GIVE AMBULANCE FUND BIG BOOST OVER HOLIDAY

Parade Stimulates Interest In
Effort to Raise Balance
Due on Vehicle

ALL ARE URGED TO HELP

Parading in the interest of the drive for funds with which to pay off the balance due on the public ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad, members of the senior and junior branches paraded here last night. The ambulance was in the line of parade which was led by Bristol and Penna. Motor Police with the music being furnished by the Bristol Cadets.

Hundreds of people throughout the town saw the fine ambulance on which $1800 is still due and which must be paid within the next 60 days. Repossession of the ambulance is threatened. A group of residents have organized themselves as the "Sponsors of the Bucks County Rescue Squad Fund, Croydon Unit No. 1" and are endeavoring to raise sufficient money to keep the ambulance in the public's service.

The Bristol Cadets did their bit for the drive when they furnished their services free so as to arouse more interest in the fund solicitation.

Many residents have not as yet given to the fund and to these an appeal is made. One thousand dollars is still to be raised and those handling the campaign believe that they will reach their goal. Every resident of the community must help. Give as liberally as you can, is the request. If each and every resident will help the task will be far easier. Now is the time to give.

Every effort is to be made to raise $600 during the holiday week-end and if this is accomplished the total amount of the contribution will reach $1200.

"Give a dollar and you will better enjoy the holiday period."

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Doylestown's new $80,000 sewage disposal plant is now completed and has been turned over to the town. Built with the aid of the Public Works Administration funds—a grant of $36,000—the government inspection has been completed and the plant is now in operation. The new system is looked upon as one of the finest in the State, including a new pump house, sedimentation tanks, rotary distributor and digestive tanks, together with the necessary piping. An attractive fence surrounds the entire plant.

Members of the Wiley Family Association held their annual reunion at Forest Park, with 104 in attendance. The 44th annual reunion of the McKinstry Family Association was held at the home of Mrs. Agnes Cadwallader, Warrington.

When a chauffeur for William T. Fleming, Philadelphia hauler for "Pep Brothers," passed through Doylestown he didn't know that his truck was on fire. Not until he reached Warrington, south of here, was he warned by a motorist that smoke was coming out of the trailer of the 10,000-pound job.

Doylestown Fire Company was called but the contents of the big truck, valued at about $5,000, including tires, batteries and generators, both old and new, that were loaded at Easton earlier in the day, were destroyed.

Work has been started in Perkaskie borough on another extensive sidewalk rebuilding project under a Federal grant which amounts to approximately $100,000 including the local share in the project.

Work on side-walks has started at Seventh and Race streets and street paving has begun at Third street between Arch and Race and on Race between Third and Fourth streets.

According to Frank O'Rourke, Perkaskie borough engineer who drew up the project, the side-walk project will call for the laying of 12,630 feet of new side-walks. Previously, property owners in Perkaskie borough had taken advantage of similar projects to the extent of approximately 15,000 feet.

FOREST PARK TO STAGE UNUSUAL ILLUMINATION

Twenty Fantastic Signs Will Be Operated Beginning
September 4th

COPIES ENGLISH SHOW

CHALFONT, Sept. 2—For the first time in America, a fantastic illumination show will be staged at Forest Park, here, beginning on Labor Day when twenty elaborately illuminated signs will be exhibited along the banks of the creek depicting many animated subjects creating a "Fair of Light."

Under the supervision of Richard F. Lusse, who has designed the signs, which range in size from 20 feet high to 22 feet long and contain more than 200 bulbs, the entire display is planned along the lines of the famed Fall illumination exhibition held annually at Blackpool, England.

According to Mr. Lusse, who has travelled the entire breadth and length of America, as well as seen the English show, more than 450 signs are illuminated at Blackpool which is 275 miles from London.

Forest Park lends itself beautifully to the illuminated signs because the reflection of the nicely colored and lighted exhibits are mirrored in the tranquil creek waters.

The signs, which range from Jack and the Beanstalk, The Old Lady in the Shoe, Jack Horner, Tick Tock, the Mouse Ran Up the Clock, Mary, Mary Quite Contrary, This Little Pig Went to Market, The Cow Jumped Over the Moon, all of which are nursery rhyme subjects, to "Old Sol" and two "Elephants," emphasizing a political gesture, are much larger than they appear at a glance.

Mr. Lusse plans to open the illumination show on Labor Day and continue it for a week as an experiment.

Mr. Lusse also has constructed a King Corn Tower which will be used in connection with the farmers' jamboree. There will be a fountain displayed on the island.

The artistic work on the signs which are beautifully executed in colors and figures where necessary is done by Albert Bailey, of Lansdale, under the direction of Mr. Lusse.

The entire display of signs takes close to about 10,000 bulbs in order to illuminate the nursery rhyme figures. There are excellent Tick Tock; Mary, Mary Quite Contrary; the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, and other creations. The entire show will contain 20 pieces all of which are situated along the stream so that they command their own individual angle.

The electrical engineering is being done by Robert Graham, of the Park, who was perfecting the wiggling tail of a huge flickering dragon.

Mr. Lusse, a former officer and now director of the National Association of Amusement Parks, Pools and Beaches, which represents a little over 1,000 amusement parks in the United States, is highly enthusiastic about his initial illumination show in the United States.

"In England thousands of people visit Blackpool on excursion trains to see the illuminated exhibits," he said.

The exact sum to be expended on streets and sidewalks, according to Mr. O'Rourke, is $96,469. Of this, $46,584 is for street work and $49,885 for sidewalks. In the former the Federal grant is $26,335 and in the latter $34,918, both covering labor items.

John Mayes, who has been in charge of the WPA work at Lenape Park and other local work, is in charge of the present project. About 40 men will be employed in the work which will continue into next year.

A Republican picnic will be held at Green Top Grove, one and one-half miles north of Sellersville on Route 209, Saturday, September 9th, afternoon and evening, sponsored by the Sellersville Republican Club. Picnickers will bring their basket lunch. Ham chowder and roasted corn will be served.

There will be no speeches, but there will be entertainment and games for young and old. Bring the family.

HIKER ON 400,000-MILE TREK VISITS BRISTOL

Sergeant James H. Duffy Was Told in 1924 He Would Never Walk Again

WILL ENTER MARATHON

Sergeant James H. Duffy, who at the age of 74 years is participating in a 400,000 mile hike, paid Bristol a visit yesterday, carrying his knapsack and his credentials which prove he has visited hundreds of cities and towns during the 240,000 miles of travel he has thus far completed since told in 1924 that he would never walk again.

It was when Sergeant Duffy, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and the World War, was in the Walter Reed Hospital, in Washington, D. C., and the John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., for a leg wound sustained in the Great War, that physicians told him after months of unsuccessful treatment, that he would never be able to use his limbs to carry him from place to place.

But undaunted, this Irish-Jew, of staunch spirit, decided if at all possible he would walk—which he has, thousands upon thousands of miles, his hikes taking him into practically every state in the Union, and to many foreign countries.

On his way up Bristol Pike, yesterday, he paid a visit to the Cornwells Heights postmaster, and upon reaching here visited Postmaster Joseph P. Duffy, receiving from each a signed statement attesting to his visit in the respective communities.

After leaving the hospitals, according to Sergeant Duffy, an old physician bound his wound with a "split codfish—the wound miraculously healing." In 1925 he tried walking, first short distances in between automobile rides. With his wife at the wheel, Duffy would ride a distance, then walk for a little while, increasing the hikes each time. Finally he was able to walk fairly long distances by means of his crutches. In time he discarded the crutches, using two canes, but finally cut down to one cane.

The cane which he now uses is from a redwood tree in the Valley of the Giants, California. After drying it and shaping the same he carved his daughter's name on it, with the intention of presenting it to her. The name of California was cut on the stout stick, and later Duffy added names of one or two more states he entered, until the idea dawned upon him it would be nice to keep for his

Satisfied To Remain

(By "The Stroller")
When a police officer at the Bristol municipal building attempted to unlock a cell in which a man was a prisoner yesterday morning, the lock could not be budged.

The efforts were continued, but to no avail. Finally a lock-smith was summoned, and after considerable work was enabled to unlock it. The lock was found to be jammed with matchsticks, the mentally unbalanced prisoner evidently being satisfied to remain where he had been placed.

YOUTH ENDS LIFE DUE TO ATTACK OF DEMENTIA PRAECOX

Dan'l Sabatini, 22, 441 Washington Street, Shoots Self Through Temple

GREATLY WORRIED

Mother Finds Her Son Dead,
Slumped Over End of Couch

Worried over the fact that he was losing his hair, according to his sister, Daniel Sabatini, 22, single, 441 Washington street, ended his life shortly before two o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the living-room of his home.

He was the son of John and Pasqualina Sabatini, and also leaves a sister, Mrs. Anthony Narcisi, and two brothers, Rudolph and Michael Sabatini.

During the absence of his mother, and alone in the house, Sabatini, according to the police, shot himself through the right temple with a Savage .22 calibre pump-gun rifle. Death was instantaneous, according to deputy coroner, Dr. James P. Lawler.

Deputy Coroner Dr. James P. Lawler issued a certificate stating that Sabatini died of a "gunshot wound of the right temple, self-inflicted while suffering from dementia praecox."

Questioned as to the motive of Sabatini in ending his life, Mrs. Anthony Narcisi, a sister, told the authorities that he had been worried for some time over the fact that he was losing his hair.

Apparently the possibility of Sabatini becoming bald preyed upon his mind, due to the fact that he was still a young man. Mrs. Narcisi told the authorities she had talked this matter over with her brother, and cautioned him about worrying too much over it. She said she had cautioned him about having a nervous breakdown. According to the family, Sabatini's nerves have been in bad condition for several weeks. Yesterday afternoon Sabatini was in the house alone with his mother when she stepped out for a few minutes. Upon her return Mrs. Sabatini found her son on the couch with a gun-shot wound in his temple.

The funeral will be conducted from the Sabatini home on Monday at nine a. m., and there will be High Mass in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be directed by Galzerano in St. Mark's Cemetery.

LAST OF THE SUMMER HOLIDAYS

The holiday week-end really starts today, when many of those who contemplate a final fling as the Summer says goodbye will turn to the open road, or, more accurately, the heavily congested highways, and join the trek to a pleasant destination.

Each of these Summer week-end holidays is an occasion for concern and for warning. When thousands of automobiles are added to the normal volume of motor traffic carried by the highways the difficulties and the dangers are multiplied.

This is no mere theory. The news of the day gives it the status of an established fact. The holiday spirit is in the air and it is reflected in a natural eagerness to reach the particular spot where the time is to be spent—the shore, the mountains or some other place where there are holiday attractions.

This spirit is conducive to recklessness. The news reports tell the story of the results, usually in terms of tragedy. Every holiday week-end produces its toll of death.

This is not inescapable. If sanity rules on the highways during the next three or four days everybody will have a good time and there will be no vain lamentations for those who have crashed.

WAR!

War has come to Europe again and what it will bring in its trail not one person of the two billion inhabiting this earth can predict.

That is the nature of war. It starts—or is started by an ambitious ruler—and after the first day or two no one is much concerned. By some its early end is always predicted others take it as a matter of course.

Everyone except those peoples directly concerned is certain it will make no difference to him. Some day it will end, but life will go on as before even if it never ends. These complacent ones are wrong, as they would see were they not too lazy to read history.

War has come to Europe again, and things will never be the same as they were a year ago, a month ago, yesterday. Not in a single tiny spot anywhere on this globe will they ever be the same again.

That is the nature of war on a gigantic scale. Life is drawn into new channels, old ideas and ideals change with changing geography. Ruin, desolation, death, lay their hands upon all, in greater or less degree.

The destruction of wealth that accompanies war on a gigantic scale leaves its mark on future mankind. It never is, it cannot be, replaced.

Lives are lost in war, and time is lost, too. Time that cannot be made up. Time that is taken out of the lives of all the human beings of the earth. Time is so short, and nothing shortens it like war.

Before this war ends, whole peoples may lose their national identity, before its ruins are obliterated new concepts of civilization may prevail. Nothing ever was certain as to the outcome in any war in the past.

This war is not like any war in the past. New methods of destruction have been invented and produced on a huge scale for use in obliterating non-combatant populations as well as armies. Every war has brought forward new methods, as one side sought to gain an advantage over the other.

long trek. The thought seemed a good one, and as he entered each state the name of the commonwealth was carved on the cane until today it is filled with the names of states of the Union. He cut his daughter another cane to replace it.

In 1926 the Sergeant won the Los Angeles-New York walking derby, finishing in 109 days, and leading the runner-up by 27 days. He is due at the New York World's Fair on September 15th, to enter the 40-day international endurance hike within the fair grounds. "I know half of the others won't last," he stated today. The hikers will rest 10 minutes out of every hour, and will have a 25-minute rest period every five hours. The man having the most laps in the 40-day period will be declared the winner.

He served with Teddy Roosevelt's "Rough Riders," and is very proud of his record.

Born on the banks of the Rio Grande River in disputed territory, Sergeant Duffy states that the place is now part of the village of Ranger, Texas. Both Mexico and the United States claimed the site at the time of his birth.

Of excellent physique, browned by the sun, he carries a knapsack filled with credentials attesting to his hiking trip. He attended the American Legion convention in France, and while abroad hiked through France, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Germany, and Italy. He receives "Hike," but most of the time is spent in hiking.

He has on his credentials papers a fine collection of seals from various state, national and county offices. Included are those from Rear Admiral of the U. S. Navy, Wilson Brown; Melvin C. Hayes, president of the Board of Commerce, Washington, D. C.; Governor Herbert Connor, Maryland; Governor A. Harry Moore, New Jersey, and many others. For protection while walking at night Duffy wears a large reflector on his belt, and on the reverse of this is a mirror by which he shaves. "I love to sleep out of doors," he says. "When night comes I place newspapers on the ground, and spread my blanket over me."

When it comes to roasting a chicken, Duffy knows how to do it in a tasty manner, following the methods of Indian tribes of old. "I cover the chicken with mud, and bake it in the midst of a fire on the ground. Then when the mud is knocked off, the feathers come out with it. There is no taster way of cooking a chicken," he adds.

Evening Wedding Unites Miss Appleton and Wilbur Mason

The marriage of Miss Margaret Constance Appleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Appleton, 337 Walnut street, and Wilbur Howard Mason, Philadelphia, was solemnized in Bristol Methodist Church, last evening at seven o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. J. Carpenter Zook, officiated.

Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley, organist, played selections before and during the ceremony. The soloist, Miss Thelma Mason, Philadelphia, sister of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." The bride's attendants were Miss Vera Yeagle, 331 Walnut street, maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Winifred Kendall, Beaver street. Franklin Hardesty, Philadelphia, served as best man, and Emerson Mason, Philadelphia, brother of the groom, was the usher.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gown in white satin, princess style, featuring a sweetheart neckline, with two pearl clips, and collar of Queen Anne lace. The long skirt was cut with a train, trimmed with lace. The bridal veil of tulle, fell in graceful folds to the hem-line from a head-piece of pearls, and the face veil extended to the waist. White satin sandals were worn. The bride carried a white prayer book with white satin ribbon streamers knotted with baby breath and gardenias.

The maid of honor was attractive in blue taffeta. A Juliet cap of taffeta held the long tulle veil of the same tone. Silver slippers were worn. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and baby breath. The bridesmaid's dress was of aquamarine taffeta. The hoop skirt was trimmed with bows of peach-colored ribbon. The tulle veil, aqua tone, hung in folds from a doll hat of aqua taffeta, with peach tone flowers on the side. Silver slippers completed this costume, and she carried an arm bouquet of peach toned roses and baby breath.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left for a honeymoon trip. Mrs. Mason traveled in a black and white ensemble. They will reside in their newly-furnished apartment at 4845 Frankford avenue, Philadelphia.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

The Hardy Family takes a fling at life, both romantic and dramatic, in the seventh of the popular series, "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever," opening Sunday at the Grand Theatre. All the familiar faces are back. However, Lewis Stone as the Judge, Mickey Rooney as Andy, and Cecilia Parker as Marian fall victims to a spirit of caprice and it is up to Fay Holden (Mother Hardy) and Sara Haden (Aunt Milly) to remain the stabilizing members.

Newcomers to the cast are Helen Gilbert, a new discovery who plays Andy's latest love, and Terry Kilburn, who recently scored an outstanding success in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

The adventurous spirit strikes the Hardys like a cyclone. In this picture, the Judge loses his usual conservatism and almost loses everything he owns in a crooked promotion stunt.

RITZ THEATRE

One of the greatest love stories to reach the screen in many a year has its local premiere tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre where Paramount presents "Invitation to Happiness," co-starring Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray, and featuring Charlie Ruggles, Billy Cook, William Collier, Sr., and Marion Martin.

Entertainment of the sort that is guaranteed by the inclusion of the "Dead End" Kids in the cast of any picture is provided by them in heap- ing measure in their latest Warner

Bros. production, entitled "Hell's Kitchen," which opened yesterday at the Ritz Theatre. They have come to stand for a swell combination of exciting, melodramatic action and uproarious humor, and that is just what they supply in "Hell's Kitchen."

Of course, they have plenty of adult as well as juvenile aid, particularly in the person of the gravel-voiced Stanley Fields, who strikes one in this production as nothing more nor less than a "Dead End" Kid grown up, older certainly, wiser maybe and tougher perhaps.

BRISTOL THEATRE

With John Howard and Gail Patrick heading the cast, Paramount's new drama, "Grand Jury Secrets," had its local premiere last night at the Bristol Theatre, hitting the dramatic peak of the season for thrills and moments of tense excitement.

Movita, beautiful singing star, thrilled opening day audiences yesterday at the Bristol Theatre, where Monogram's "Girl From Rio" began a run of two days.

Famous for his Latin characterizations on the screen, Leo Carrillo portrays another such role in RKO Radio's "The Girl and the Gambler." Steffi Duna and Tim Holt appear opposite the popular actor, at the Bristol Theatre on Sunday.

MAGLIONE VS. WOLGAST

Sam Sindora To Meet Willie
Coleman in Semi-Final
Bout

Tony Maglione, of Trenton, and Midcast Wolgast, former flyweight champion of the world, were matched to meet in the eight-round window at St. Ann's open air arena here. However, there will be a change in the date of the show. Instead of running his show on Monday, the usual night, Gruber has switched it to Wednesday night, September 6th, on account of Monday being Labor Day.

"I don't think Labor Day is a good day for fights," said Gruber, in explaining the change in date. "For the people, it is a day of picnics and celebrating. When night comes they are tired out and in no mood to go to the fights. That is the reason for the switch to Wednesday this week."

The semi-final of six rounds will bring together Sam Sindora, of Trenton, meeting a newcomer around these parts, Willie Coleman, of Philadelphia. Larry Mangini, who was to have boxed Sindora, refused to meet him this week, hence Coleman, who is quite a fighter. He is a colored boy who has boxed Bobby Masters three times, having him on the floor in one contest. They were three of the most sensational contests ever seen in Atlantic City, N. J. He has also boxed Mayon Padlo and others, always giving the fans a great run for their money.

Another six will show Able Kaufman, of Philadelphia, swapping punches with Buck Streeter, of Doylestown. Kaufman is a protégé of Harry Radle and knows his way around within the squared circle. There will be three four-rounders to complete the show. The first contest will enter the ring at 8.45 p. m.

BLACK BATTING HERO OF TWILIGHT DIAMOND SERIES

The star of many mound victories, "Howie" Black, played a different role last evening as he turned into a batting hero by smacking out a triple to drive in the only runs of the game as the Rohm and Haas nine again won over the Diamond team, 2-0, on Landreth's field.

Black's drive came with two out in the last half of the sixth and both teams scoreless. Rockhill had opened the frame with a pass. Dick tried to bunt twice and then whiffed. Rockhill went to second on Aldrich's error and took third on an infield hit by Dougherty. Massilla raised a short fly to center, the runners holding their bags. Black lined a hit to left which bounced over Avella's head for three bases.

The tilt was an honest to truly pitching duel until the winning walk. The opposing hurlers were "Eddie" Sullivan and Charlie Whyno. Whyno allowed but four hits while Sullivan, the winning pitcher, was nipped for seven whacks. Sullivan struck out seven and Whyno five. Whyno fanned the side in the fifth.

Five of the losers' seven hits were earned by Mike DeRisi and Chuck Klein. DeRisi had three out of three while Klein had two out of three but in the pinches it was impossible to touch Sullivan.

Angelo drew a pass from Sullivan in the first to be the only Diamond batter to reach base in this inning for Howie Black robbed Purcell of a hit by his shoestring catch of the latter's liner. Whyno retired the side in 1-2-3 order.

DeRisi opened the Diamond second with a hit but could not be advanced as Avella struck out and Whyno forced him and later was caught off first. Again Whyno set down the chemical workers without allowing a player to reach base.

Things began to hum for Diamond in the third but did not materialize. Klein started it with a single and advanced when Aldrich dumped a sacrifice down the first base line. Thorpey and Helveston were easy outs.

Whyno ran into trouble in his half but escaped without a score. Locke walked but died stealing. Harrison at second. Rockhill singled but Dick's best was a fly to left.

After Angelo struck out, Purcell and DeRisi singled for Diamond in the fourth but Avella and Whyno lifted short infield flies. A fast double-play, DeRisi to Klein to Aldrich saved Diamond in their part of the inning.

Diamond again passed up an opportunity in the fifth. Klein got a hit past third base. Aldrich died to strikes. Thorpey hit to Sullivan who got Klein at third. Helveston went on via the strikeout route. Whyno struck out Sullivan, Locke, and Oppman in the last half, although Harrison lined a hit in between strike-outs.

With two away, Aldrich got a double to center on a fly which Rockhill misjudged but Thorpey could not do anything. Rohm and Haas counted both their runs in the second half of the sixth.

The third and fourth games of the series are scheduled to be played on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9 and 10. Rohm & Haas needs but one victory to cop the championship of the Twilight loop.

STANLEY WITINSKI TO RIDE AT LANGHORNE

Stanley Witinski, of Reading, appears ready to break into that select circle of motorcycle riders who have dominated the national 100-mile competition for the last several years.

Last year Witinski showed he knows how to wheel a cycle around Langhorne sloop, banked turns by winning the qualifying trials.

His performance topped everything ever turned in by a motorcycle on the one-mile Bucks County oval.

Now he's set for Labor Day when the 1939 national "100" will run at that same Langhorne track.

He has just returned from Springfield, Ill., where he won the U. S. 25-mile title.

Stanley now has had a taste of a title—and feels he can parlay the two titles crown with the century. Motor trouble halted Stan after he led for a good part of the way in last year's "100."

For the last four years, the century championship has been won by Woodie Castonguay (1935) Lester Hillbush (1936) and Ed Kretz, 1937-38.

And this trio appears to have a stranglehold on the leading money places.

However, Witinski, aims to break through. He beats out Hillbush, who also hails from Reading, in the 25-mile title race. He thinks he can do it at the longer distance, too.

BRISTOL A. A. TO PLAY AT CAPE MAY TODAY

Today the Bristol A. A. will travel to Cape May, N. J., to play the strong Collegians of that place. Manager Mulholland will have Danny Mathews, of Trenton Inter-State League, formerly of the A. A. club, on the hill, with Jesse Vanzant behind the plate; Palowez on first, Captain Stallone on second, Harrison at short, Hughes on third; Dick, Hunter, McGinley, Felchner, Linck, in the outfield. Zefferies, who was to pitch, was injured yesterday at work. As the Trenton team is finished for the season, Manager Mulholland got on the job and brought in Mathews to toss them up. It was Mathews who beat the Capes on July 4th, 7 to 2, being the only club to defeat the Collegians this season.

RIVERSIDE NINE TO OPPOSE LANDRETH TEAM

Manager Landreth announces that he has been very fortunate in obtaining Riverside, the champions of the Burlington County League, to play the "Farmers" at Landreth Ball Park tomorrow at three o'clock.

Riverside has appeared here several times this year and there has been only one run difference between the clubs in each game. The last time they appeared here was three weeks ago and after a hectic battle, with the score see-sawing, they finally beat out the "Farmers," 8 to 7, in the last inning. So tomorrow's game, which will be the last between the two clubs this year, should be a very fine contest.

IMPORTANT PRACTICE GAME FOR THE "RECS"

The Bristol Rees football team will practice tomorrow morning on Leedom's ground at 10.30 a. m. All players wanting to try for positions on this year's team must put in an appearance at this practice as the squad will be picked for the opening game on either September 10th or 17th. Several of last season's players, who are working hard, are: Bono, last season's smashing fullback; Nolan, also a back; Dutch McLaughlin; Pat McGee, star center of last season; Johnny Dougherty, Joe Flat, and Tommy Baines are out for end positions; Walt Bartle and Gorilla Wilson are the only guards out to date; Thomas, a tackle;

THAT MAN'S HERE AGAIN!

Jeffries, a back, of '37, and old reliable George Dougherty, who will coach and play quarterback, will be back in harness after a year's lay-off.

Several new players will be brought in to fill the vacant places left by last year's players who will not play this season.

Manager Mulholland has about 30 requests of players wanting to play with the Rees club this season, and will shortly bring several out-of-town players here to play for the Rees. A couple played here with Trenton Eagles, one from Burlington, two of Philadelphia, three from Langhorne.

Players missing from last year's squad who have not been out for practice, are: Johnson, star tackle; Swadu, a crack back; Zefferies, passing ace, and Kutzler, a crack end, and Baker, a tackle. This week-end will be the final try-out.

BOWLING SEASON TO OPEN HERE SEPT. 11TH

The final meeting of the Bristol dramatic suddenness yesterday morning. There was little or no evidence on which to base such a hope, however.

The latest official communique from the German High Command in Berlin indicated a successful thrust 30 miles or more inside of Polish territory on a 62-mile front. Late last night, authoritative quarters in Berlin made it amply clear that the Anglo-French ultimatum was slated for rejection. Unless some last minute change occurred, the assumption therefore must be that the war is continuing, with only a few hours remaining before it becomes an international holocaust.

The season will open on Monday evening, Sept. 11, at 8 a. m. when the National League rolls into action. A schedule for the first half will be posted at the bowling alleys and also in this paper at a later date.

Blanket of Censorship On War Unparalleled

engaged in by mankind.

Despite apparent delay in getting the allied armies under way, and despite German effort to spread false rumors that there is going to be a truce, and that they had halted their military obligations against Poland, neutral and diplomatic military opinion was that there is not one chance in a million to halt the gigantic process that Hitler set in motion yesterday, until many years of war bring it to an end.

It is admitted that the German attack upon Poland yesterday, which was expected to be severe, and partake of the character of "blitzkrieg" (lightning war), was actually extraordinarily light.

LONDON, Sept. 2—(5.57 A. M. EDT)

(INS)—Britain's King, Government and people today were ready for a day of war-like activity in the full expectation that Germany would deliver, either in the form of a note or further bombings of Polish cities, a "no" to parallel French and British ultimatums.

King George VI. called a meeting of the Privy Council for the morning, in which, according to the Daily Telegraph, a "war cabinet" will be sworn in.

The new cabinet, it was predicted, will consist of a small number of men for streamlined action, but its scope will be enlarged to include leaders of varying shades of opinion.

Among the new members, it was suggested may be Winston Churchill, conservative who held all three defense portfolios at various times during the World War; Arthur Greenwood, Laborite leader of the opposition, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal. Less prominence now is given to the chances of David Lloyd George, war-time premier and Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary who battled against Chamberlain's now-discarded policy of appeasement, to rejoin the Cabinet.

Such a Cabinet, it was stated, would demonstrate the solidarity of Great Britain in the current emergency.

Various members of the Cabinet, especially Prime Minister Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, and the defense ministers were due to confer this morning before the meeting of Parliament.

Parliament will assemble for its second emergency session in two days at 2.45 p. m. (9.45 a. m. EDT).

Before the House of Commons adjourns, it was anticipated, word will have been received from Berlin regarding the Anglo-French ultimatum.

Rejection was expected, as Chamberlain told the House yesterday. In that event, said the Prime Minister, Sir Neville Henderson and Robert Coulondre, the British and French ambassadors in Berlin, were instructed to ask for their passports at once.

Chamberlain's pessimism was borne out by a statement of the official German news agency, DNB, that Britain "wants a deliberately-prepared European war," and that "the German people are prepared to wage even a ten-year war."

Britain and France, the Prime Minister stressed, will "without hesitation fulfill their obligations to Poland" if Hitler gives the expected negative
